Silit Generation eco

Silit Energy Red Cookware – a unique mix of quality, innovation, design and functionality for a healthier kitchen. Silit is well known for its revolutionary Silargan®. This inseparable compound is formed with the fusion of high-tech ceramic and a ferromagnetic steel core at 860°C. This makes Silargan® ultra hard, cut and scratchproof, dishwasher-proof, non-abrasive and extremely durable. It is also nickel-free and is the first anti-bacterial cookware in the world. The extra-sturdy, drawn-in-one piece steel core and the dark interior guarantee excellent cooking & frying, and has a special pouring rim for easy & spill free pouring. The all-metal handles are ergonomic, ovenproof and heat-resistant. The glass lids are made of high quality heat resistant tempered glass, perfect for water-reduced cooking.
